

Murlock and Bob McKnight were more musicians with William Harvey and William Robertson calling the quartetts.

The Center Creek story would not be complete without mentioning "Twice's Hall". For the time it was considered very good. (1891)

It was built by one of the early settlers of Center. He was a Scotsman, Dave Peckle and loved by one and all. The hall was used for dancing, theatres, weddings, school and church programs in later years for basketball. There was a kitchen built along the east side and although it contained only an old kitchen stove, table and some shelves, very delicious dinners were prepared. Two of the main cooks were Mary Mair Lindsay and Sarah Jane Thompson Lindsay. Many of the early couples were married or held their receptions in the hall. But the most important event was the 25th of January, when all the Scots from far and near gathered to celebrate the birth of their famous poet, Robert Burns. The Ritchies from Chambersburg, 17 Scots from Albemarle, the Lindsays from Montgomery's, Fisher's, Turner's, Murlock's and many more gathered to sing and recite and dance. Barbara Dawson would dance the Highland Fling. Jim Landree, well versed in burns, would recite. Andrew Lindsay would sing, "Ain'te My Scotch Blue Bell" and "Ain'te Laurie," with the group joining in the chorus. The evening would end with dinner and all singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Even with their busy farming schedules, and with dramas, dancing, socials and sports events to fill their lives, the people in Center Creek have always found time to devote to their religious duties.

As they first settled the community, they built a chapel in which to worship. John Harvey came to the community to direct the activities of the ward in 1861. Then, in 1872 when the people moved back after the Indian wars, Benjamin Chaff was called to serve as Bishop of the ward. Serving as counselors to Bishop Chaff until his release in 1894 were Sidney Wendee John Harvey, William Blake, John Beard and Archibald Buchanan. David K. Barnett was clerk.

William Chaff became Bishop in 1894 and chose as his counselors Abner Brown and Richard Harvey. William Priestly was the clerk. They served together until 1898 when Abner Brown was called to be the new bishop. His counselors were David W. Smith and Thomas Clegg with William Priestly continuing as clerk. Thomas Clegg was ordained as the fourth bishop in 1900, and chose as his counselors David W. Smith and William Ryan. Elder Ryan also acted as clerk.

In 1903 David W. Smith was called to be the ward's fifth bishop. His counselors were William Ryan and Hugh W. Harvey. Just one year later, in 1904, Elder Harvey was sustained as the ward's sixth bishop. His counselors at that time were Anton M. Hansen and Charles Jensen. Other counselors included D. Warren Smith, Elmer Mahoney and Bennett Lindsay. Soren C. Christensen served as ward clerk.

During Bishop Harvey's term, the need for a new meeting house was keenly felt. After considerable discussion, it was determined to pur-
